Allied Bomb Just Missed Hitler

LONDON, July 24 (INS)—Hitler, Goering, Himmler and Rommel narrowly escaped death in an Allied bombing raid in France a week before D-Day, the London Times said today.

Evening Standard reported today. Quoting French civilians, the paper said Hitler and his official entourage had just left an anti-invasion headquarters near Arramanché when bomb-carrying Spitfires came over.

More than 200 German naval officers summoned to discuss anti-invasion measures were said to be in the city.

With reopening of telephone communications between Berlin and Madrid it was learned the SS (Elite Guard), the Gestapo, Hitler Youth and the whole Nazi home-guard of gunmen now stand in the last-ditch position planned long ago against the day when the German military machine showed signs of a crackup.

Little resistance has been encountered, the bulletin said. No Japanese were reported on the remainder of the front.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' communique last night said landings begun at dawn Sunday by assault units of the Second and Fourth Marines, were being "continued against light opposition" on Tinian, three miles south of conquered Saipan.

The invasion was made under protection of carrier and land-based planes, warship guns and land-based artillery. American forces on Guam suffered 1938 casualties in three days' fighting. They have isolated the island's best airbase and finest harbor in closing their grip on Port Apra.

EXPECT STIFFER FIGHTING
The Tinian assault, third invasion in the Marianas, was launched four days after the Guam landings. The majority of defense installations around Tinian's beachheads had been neutralized by bombing and artillery fire across the two and one-half-mile channel separating the island from Saipan. The Tinian airfield also was decommissioned.

Fighting was expected to be stiffer as the invaders proceeded inland. Tinian is not as rugged and mountainous as Guam and Saipan, but it has several tablelands which should afford the Japanese excellent defense positions.

OFFICERS PROMOTED
Nimitz also announced that Lt. Gen. Holland F. Smith, U. S. Marine Corps, and Saipan conqueror, has been promoted from commander of the Fifth Amphibious Corps to commanding General, Fleet Marine Forces of the Pacific, a new position.

New Fifth Amphibious Corps chief is Maj. Gen. Harry Schmidt, commanding the expeditionary troops on Tinian.

Rear Adm. Harry W. Hill of Oakland, Cal. has returned to action. Maj. Gen. Clifton B. Cates of Chester Hill, Penn., was named the new commander of the Fourth Marines. Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Watson, veteran of three Pacific landings, remains commanding general of the Second Marine division.

Reds Peril Last Bars Into Reich

By DANIEL DE LUCE
MOSCOW, July 24 (AP)—The German army fled in disorder through central Poland today as the Russians advanced to within 70 miles of Warsaw and fought through the streets of Lublin, only 25 miles from the Wisla (Vistula) river line Hitler must hold to stave off a direct assault on the Reich.

(The German radio, heard in London, admitted Russian troops had advanced to within 50 miles of Warsaw on the "line of Siedlce and Jaroslavl." Siedlce is 50 miles due east of the Polish capital and lies 365 airline miles from Berlin. This Red advance to Siedlce marked a 20-mile gain since midnight. The city is about midway between Warsaw and Brest Litovsk.

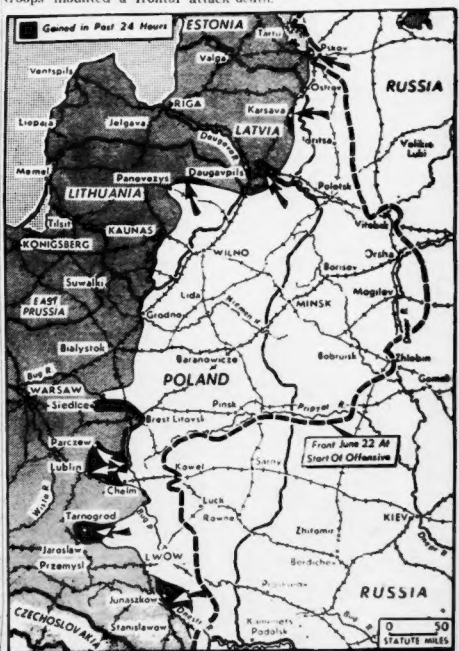

(The German reference to a Russian advance reaching a line from Siedlce to Jaroslavl pointed to a general retreat along a 150-mile front across the center of Poland.)

In Stalin's juggernaut offensive entering its second month with increasing momentum, the Red Army has captured 23 German generals and knocked out possibly 50 of the Germans' 250 divisions in the East—300,000 or more men.

The battle of Poland, already assuming catastrophic consequences for Hitler's eastern front, was shaping into a struggle in the near future for Prussia itself.

The Red Army moved deeply into the Baltic republics and in the south struck close to the Carpathian defenses of Hungary and Czechoslovakia, but it was over the wide, rolling Polish plains that Stalin's war of movement hourly gained new decisions.

Brest-Litovsk was by-passed in a pocket 40 miles deep. Soviet troops mounted a frontal attack death.

RUSSIA—Black areas indicate territory reported captured in the last 24 hours by the on-rushing Red armies which are now 50 miles from Warsaw at Siedlce, after by-passing Brest-Litovsk. In the north Pskov has fallen and SCoviet forces have pushed into Lublin and Lwow.

Normandy People Glad To Pay Freedom's Price

(William Randolph Hearst, Junior, in a series of five articles of which this is the first, describes his visit to the American sector of the Normandy battlefield.)

By WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST, JUNIOR
Publisher, New York Journal-American

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN NORMANDY—I have just had a first hand glimpse of the battle of France.

After a tour of the battlefield, one cannot escape the conclusion that France is paying a stiff price for liberation, but it is a price men have to pay to be free.

The most remarkable thing is that the people of Normandy realize this fact.

I have talked with men and women who have lost their loved ones and seen their homes destroyed by our bombs as well as by German artillery.

The courage, fortitude and understanding of these people of Normandy was an inspiration.

Despite the fact that they had lost their homes and suffered the horrors of modern war they welcome the Allies.

They are not happy about the destruction of their cities—no one could be happy over such a thing—but they are willing to take it as the price that must be paid to liberate them from Nazi oppression.

This was borne home to me when I drove into Caen in a jeep, accompanied by Burris Jenkins, Jr., New York Journal-American's famous artist, and four American Ninth Air Force officers.

The latter included Col. Bob Farham, head of public relations there; Maj. George Kirskey, former sports writer and our conducting officer; Capt. Ben Wright, and Lt. Bill Pratt.

I had flown over to Normandy last Monday.

SMALL, BUSY AIRSTRIP

We landed in Normandy on a small airstrip I had been on several weeks ago, one used since D-plus-four Day primarily for the evacuation of our wounded.

At least a dozen planes like ours were parked at the edge of the field—some filled with wounded awaiting their turn to take off, while others were lined up behind them still loading their precious cargo ever so gently and carefully.

Even before we had gotten our gear out of the plane, ambulances were backing up to the big double doors.

A truck was waiting for us so we threw our stuff in it and were soon bouncing along a narrow, French country road heading for a little village.

We stopped in front of a little three-story house which, you would call it a villa—at the water's edge. This was the press headquarters and was to be our home for the next few days.

There were three or four rooms on each floor in which the correspondents slept. All the rooms appeared to be full but we finally found one up under the roof which had not been used.

There was a bathroom in the whole house with only cold water and no electric light, but it was better than sleeping out on the ground.

OFF FOR CAEN

After lunch, which was served in another building set up as a sort of officers' mess, we succeeded in rustling up a jeep and set out for Caen which had fallen to the British the day before.

We were joined by Col. Farham, Capt. Wright, and Lt. Pratt.

Our first stop was Bayeux. Bayeux's narrow streets swarmed with British soldiers and all its shops were open, apparently doing a land office business.

We went to a very nice little hotel there, the Lion d'Or, and asked the lady who owned it if we could eat there later in the evening.

She could not guarantee to have any food left as we weren't sure when we would be back, so we went out to a butcher shop, bought some steaks and cheese and told her to hold them for us until we returned—if we did.

(Another article in this series will appear in tomorrow's Boston American.)

Death of Woman In Shaft Probed

Police ordered an investigation today into the strange death of Rejetta May Nutter, 33, of Latimore ct., Roxbury, whose crushed body was found in the elevator well between the first floor and basement of a Summer st. building, where she was elevator operator.

An entrance was forced into the building by police after Miss Nutter's brother, William, reported she had not returned home from work on Saturday.

2 in Dope Ring Case Face Court

FALL RIVER, July 24—A Fall River druggist and a Providence man faced arraignment in Federal Court today on charges of violating the narcotics laws in the climax to what agents describe as a smashing of a big dope peddling ring.

Bernard M. Luzier, owner of the North End Drug Store, is charged with illegal sale of narcotics, and James Perri of Providence is charged with conspiracy. Perri was arrested July 2 and Luzier's arrest came after lengthy investigation.

According to John A. Sheehan, acting district supervisor of the Boston Bureau of Narcotics, a tip was received last December from Rhode Island officials that large quantities of morphine in half-grain tablets were being peddled in Providence and outside communities for $3 a tablet.

Mercury Climbs, Cooler Tonight

Cooler tonight, with temperatures in the 70s, was the weather bureau prediction as the mercury climbed to 85 for noon and headed for a possible 92.

Late tonight or early tomorrow morning, thundershowers are expected to bring momentary relief from the humid atmosphere. It will not be quite so warm tomorrow, it is predicted.

No real rain was in sight. The total precipitation this month to date has been 1.28 inches, or .106 inches below normal.

Kills 5 Jerries To Get a Jeep

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY NEAR PISA, July 24 (AP)—For months now—ever since he and his Tommy gun held a hill near Cassino alone, killing so many Germans that no one bothered to count them—pals have been calling Texas Charley Bussey: "Rough on Krauts" Bussey.

Now they've added a new tag: "Used Car Lot Charley."

Several months ago the sharp-shooting sergeant from Big Springs captured a German jeep and made the mistake of driving it to the rear where officers took it away from him. In the push on Pisa in the last two days, Charley's patrol spotted an enemy jeep loaded with five Germans. When the shooting was over, there were five dead Jerries and Charley had another jeep.

This time he is going to keep his prize at the front with him, figuring that if someone wants to take it from him, he will have to come up where the fighting is hot.

Charley is burned up, however. In dispatching the Germans, one member of the squad shot up a spare tire.

Pair Trapped Robbing Cafe

Two South End youths were trapped in a Corning st. South End restaurant today after they had piled up 18 cases of liquor near the door and were hard at work knocking the combinations off two safes.

Insp. Edward Magee and Albert Hurst seized the younger of the two at the rear door, where the liquor was stacked.

Dashing in the front door, Sgt. Timothy Collins surprised the other, smashing at the safes with a sledge. The latter had a .38. caliber revolver, police said.

Doctor's O. K. Needed To Get Heavy Cream

Tightening restrictions on the sale of cream testing over 19 per cent butter fat, the War Food Administration today announced that, effective Aug. 1, sales will be permitted only on a physician's prescription.

District Supervisor John H. Sullivan said the order was issued to stem a steady upward trend in butter fat consumption. Prescriptions must be on file with the milk handler at the time of each sale, Sullivan said.

Sullivan disclosed that heavy cream sales had risen from a low of 25 per cent of normal in May, 1943, to 51 per cent in May this year.

Noxon Jury Deputy Jailed, Other Fined

PITTSFIELD, July 24—Deputy Sheriffs William A. Ford of Lee and Wallace H. Kezer of North Adams were found guilty today by Judge Thomas J. Hammond of contempt of court for alleged interference with the first Noxon jury. Ford, who had served as a deputy for the past 12 years, was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction. Kezer, a deputy for three years, was fined $300.

The complaints brought by Dist. Atty. Charles R. Alberti charged that Ford told the jurors they should discuss the case more seriously among themselves and was quoted by one juror as saying he was sympathetic toward Noxon. Kezer also was accused of discussing the case with the jurors and telling them that former Gov. Joseph B. Ely, chief Noxon defense counsel, wanted to know how they felt about the case. Alberti declared in court last week that he was certain Ely had never made such a statement and Kezer himself testified he could not remember making any such remark.

The jury was dismissed after a mistrial was ordered because of the continued illness of one of its members.

Robots Hurdled From Belgium

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—As the robot attacks on Britain continued for the 40th day, military experts today expressed belief that the Germans were using a number of new flying bomb bases, including one in Belgium.

London, as well as areas in the southern counties, suffered casualties and damage during the night. There were few interludes in the assaults over the weekend.

Practice Parachute Leap Kills Editor

NEW YORK (INS)—Second Lieut. Robert F. Case, 28, of Washington, D. C., died from injuries received when he parachuted from his plane while on a combat training mission seven miles southwest of Buckingham courthouse, near Appomattox, Va. He was an assistant city editor of the Washington Post prior to his enlistment in the Air Corps.

Army Denies Forcing Women to Fete Italians

As protests mounted against alleged pampering of former Italian soldiers and demands grew that they be reclassified as prisoners of war, Army officials today denied charges that American women had been forced to entertain these former enemies.

"One of the women I understand has made such a complaint was active in distributing cigarettes to these prisoners when the supposed incident occurred," declared Capt. Henry Ford, public relations officer at Camp Myles Standish.

Entertainment of 11 former Italian soldiers by an Italian-American social club also was explained by Lt. Col. Walter Brown of the First Service Command. These men, he said, always had been well behaved and that trouble makers all had been removed from Camp McKay.

Capt. Ford said the Camp Myles Standish incident occurred last June 7 when a beano party by the Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was arranged by the Red Cross and held in the recreation hall of the station hospital.

U. S. INTERPETER

All patients able to move about took part in the game, he said. At the time there were 11 wounded Italians under treatment at the hospital but Capt. Ford could not say if any or all of them took part.

He did know that cards were distributed among them and that an American soldier, who could speak Italian, interpreted for them. He insisted that no effort was made at any time to force the Italians into the party nor were they ignored.

The complaint was made by Col. Joseph C. Hanken, of Revere former State VFW commander, who charged that when members of the auxiliary visited Camp Standish, to entertain American wounded, the Red Cross instead brought in a group of Italian prisoners and insisted they be entertained.

One woman walked out of the hospital, declaring:

"This is the worst yet. The Italians tried to kill my son. I'm not entertaining them."

Col. Hanken said he had checked the story and found it true. He added that the rest of the women were forced to sit down for two hours and play beano and entertain the Italians. They went through with it, rather than cause a fuss, Hanken declared.

VETERANS' PROTEST

Meanwhile, the 101st Infantry Veterans Ass'n protested to the War Department over "wining and dining" of the visitors who a few months ago were behind Italian and German guns. The association demanded they revert to prisoner of war status at once and Another who spoke out was Thomas Barry of Boston, state commander of the Allied Veterans of World War II, who said: "They are prisoners of war because our forces overpowered them. Certain Italian factions still are shooting our boys."

Game Raid Links Murder Hunt

A dice game raid in a vacant store in Northampton st., South End, held as part of the widespread police hunt for the triggerman in last week's gangland slaying of Pepper Martin, former boxer and gambler, landed 12 men in court today on gaming charges.

As their search for Martin's slayer continued today, police announced all persons found at dice games will be prosecuted severely.

Martin's body was found in a parked car in Ipswich st., Back Bay, last Tuesday morning, following a dice game in a garage.

ODT Announces 150 New Steel Barges

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—Within 30 days the government's barge and towboat construction program for inland waterways will be finished, the Office of Defense Transportation announced today. Delivery of 155 steel cargo barges—100 for oil and 55 for dry cargo—is now complete.

Firebug Warning

Brighton residents and apartment house owners were warned by Dist. Chief James J. Harrington today that one and possibly two "phantom firebugs" are at large in the area and urged them to be alert to prevent repetition of fires which drove almost 200 residents from two large apartment blocks.

Fire officials reported both fires were set.

The first blaze was in a four-story apartment house in Commonwealth ave.

Five minutes later, flames broke out in the storage room of a 36-apartment block in Washington st., nearby.

Allston Tar Dies In Crash Blaze

Relatives here were notified today that BM 2-c Gregory Janakas, 21, USCG, of Arden st., Allston, and two companions were burned to death when their automobile crashed into a bus in Lindenhurst, L. I.

The Allston man was trapped in the flaming car which ignited after striking the gas tank of the parked bus. None of the bus passengers was injured.

Coast Guardsman Janakas, who had been spending the weekend on Long Island, was assigned to the Manhattan Beach Training Station. A native of Boston, he enlisted in the Coast Guard three years ago. His father, Gregory Janakas, and a sister, Mrs. Constance Augustine of Kansas City, survive.

Warns B. C. Men Of Materialism

Thirty-two Boston College seniors, out of an entering class of 600 freshmen, held degrees today after commencement exercises in St. Mary's Chapel, Chestnut Hill. Two members of the class already have been killed in action.

The degrees were conferred by the Very Rev. William J. Murphy, S. J., president of Boston College, who said:

"This is a world that sets its heart on materialism and such a world will always be at war. The society you now enter is led by the lower class, although we do not know whether it is for the better or worse. But you young men have the education and you must meet this society."

Rutland Vets List Hospital Complaints

Particulars in bill of complaints by veterans were disclosed today as probe began of charges of "un-American" treatment accorded patients at the U. S. Veterans Hospital at Rutland.

The probe was ordered by Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines of the Veterans Administration in Washington after the entire New England congressional delegation received letters of complaint from 180 patients at the hospital.

The veterans charged they are being treated more like prison inmates than hospital tubercular patients and are denied necessary entertainment and recreation. They complain that 90 per cent of them cannot attend the movies and offered the following suggestions along with their protest:

MAKE SUGGESTIONS

"We respectfully submit these suggestions to remedy the present unfortunate situation: Two practices in particular, or rather their inept application by the front office at U. S. V. H. are responsible for our complaint:

"1.—Even though moving pictures and other entertainment are regularly had here for our recreation and are for our morale building, about 90 per cent of the patients are excluded from attendance. This exclusion is demanded because patients are: 1—

"Not Negative," 2—"Not Hospitalized 6 months," 3—"Too Excitable,"

"These reasons should not be hard and fast rules applied indiscriminately to everyone but should be fitted to the individual patient. Prior to November, 1943, the majority of patients who were not confined to bed were allowed to attend entertainments and general physical and spiritual satisfaction prevailed.

SEEK VISITS HOME

"We desire the restoration of our former entertainment privileges.

"2.—Most of us patients are family men with the responsibility and cares of home away with us. Naturally we crave at least an occasional visit to our homes and loved ones and respectfully request doing so, realizing both the advantages as well as its dangers.

"Lately the clinical director has met these requests with unreasonable severity, acting almost as if it were a criminal offense that demanded cross examination and an un-American prying into one's private business.

"In this matter all we ask is that the ward doctor, who knows us best be the judge of our ability to profit by a pass or leave of absence."

With N. E. Boys Overseas Army Sons Boast Dads in Service, Too

By HUCK FINNEGAN

INFANTRY UNIT, Northern Ireland.—Come war's end, there will be many a Father-and-Son's Night celebration, fathers and sons who have been in the service simultaneously. It could be that they will take place in Berlin, surely later in the States.

Sgt. Robert Mason, 22, of 114 Main st., Deep River, Ct., for instance, not only has a brother, Stewart, 18, in the Marines, but his father, Victor, is with the Army in England.

"He just missed out on the last war," said Mason, "and he just got under the wire on this one. He was 18 the day (Nov. 11) the 1918 armistice was signed. He's 43 now, enlisted at Ft. Jackson, S. C., two years ago."

Mason graduated from Worcester Commerce in '40, worked for Marcus Bros., stationery supply. He married Marjorie Connetton and settled in Deep River.

Pvt. Charles J. Morin, 19, of 93 Lyman st., Holyoke, is with an anti-tank company here, and his father, Clifford Morin, 40, is in the Navy. ("I heard from him Christmas, not a word since.") Charles spent a year and a half in the CCC before entering the service. His one gripe is the weather. ("Here we've got a nice sea to swim in but it's so cold you drip icicles on the way out. I tried it once.") His fiancée, Jeanette Michon, 238 Main st., Holyoke, writes him regularly.

Father of PFC Victor Leazott, 21, of 116 Thornton st., Roxbury, isn't in the service but he still bears the scars of the last war, when he served with the Canadians. "He's on a pension," says Vic, "but I'd hate to tell you what it is."

This rough and ready youngster attended Dearborn School, Roxbury Memorial, a CCC camp, worked in Peacock's Sheet Metal Shop on Dudley st., made the corner of Hampden and Read sts., near City Hospital, his hang-out, danced at Intercolonial Hall. MEETS ROXBURY BOY

"I met a Roxbury boy in Belfast a couple of months ago. Name is Louis Eaton. He's in the Navy."

Pvt. Norman Gaboury, 23, of 114 Windfield st., Worcester, lived with his sister Claire and brother-in-law, Louis Peppin, 22, before the war, and now Claire is living alone. Gaboury is an infantryman here, Peppin is in the Navy.

"He took part in the June 6 landing in France," says Gaboury. Brother Victor, 18, is in the Air Corps back home. If all goes well, Gaboury will wed Velmer Frietsch, 33 Norton st., Worcester.

PFC Rene H. Couture, 30, of 123 Choate st., Fall River, is hoping to see his brothers Rosario, 33, and Lucien, 28, before they move into France. Both are in the Army engineers in England. Couture, a printer at Davis Screen Plant in

PLAYED FOR SOUTH HIGH
PFC John J. Guiney, Jr., 25, of 9 Crystal st., Worcester, played football and baseball for South High but didn't go on to Holy Cross like his brother Paul, 22.

"Paul played second base for Holy Cross, then for Dartmouth, and now is studying for a commission at Quantico. The Red Sox want him," said Guiney, a former linemen for N. E. Power, who keeps his finger on the sports pulse.

"Understand Charlie O'Rourke is in Londonderry. Have you met him? And what was the story on Lud Wray's discharge at H. C.?"

PFC Leo R. Lapre, 20, of 1901 Acushnet ave., New Bedford, is thankful that he lived in a French neighborhood.

LIKES NEW JOB BETTER
"I was a precision grinder in Morse Twist Drill," smiled the handsome youngster. "This is much better." He will act as interpreter in France.

In the platoon with Lapre is blond, good-looking Pvt. Winthrop H. Robbins, 25, of 45 Belle-claire ave., Longmeadow. Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop B.

Robbins graduated from Munson Academy where he captained the hockey team, played varsity soccer and hockey at Dartmouth. Cpl. Leo F. Grillo, 20, of 146 Maple st., Lawrence, was cutting the barber's hair. "This isn't my job," he explained. I'm an infantryman. But I cut hair in my father's (Patsy) shop (397 Park st.) for years. If I hadn't, I'd have been a baseball player. I was a catcher at St. Mary's Grammar School."

Leo has two brothers in the service: Salvatore, 22, signal corps, N. J.; Tony, 24, Ft. Dix. Leo graduated from Lawrence

Boston American, July 24-7.

High in '41.
Leo has shrunk from 260 to 175 pounds in the past year. "I was fat, standing on my feet, barbering all day."

Dewey, Bricker Set Campaign Parley

ALBANY, N. Y., July 24 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and his running-mate, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio will blueprint to some extent Wednesday the campaign responsibilities of each in the coming presidential campaign.

Accompanied by Mrs. Bricker and coming here for his first haul with the presidential nominee since leaving Chicago last month, Gov. Bricker will arrive Wednesday morning. The Brickers will visit national committee headquarters in New York city Thursday.

Bricker, who made an extensive speaking tour of the country in his pre-convention fight for the presidential nomination, is expected to wage a vigorous objection campaign designed to supplement and dovetail with—but not duplicate—the efforts of Gov. Dewey.

Returning to Albany today after a week-end at his farm near Pawling, the Governor continued work on the program and material to be discussed at the conference of Republican governors in St. Louis, Aug. 2-3.

Dewey will leave New York city Sunday night for St. Louis. He will stop in Pittsburgh the next day to confer on reconversion of industry to a peacetime basis with labor, industrial and business leaders. Asked if he would talk with John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, in Pittsburgh, the Governor said:

"I don't know who I will see; the schedule has not been arranged."

FENUGREEK TEA

FENUGREEK TEA IS A NATURAL HERB — NOT A DRUG!

FENUGREEK is a wonderful herb that has given results to many when other methods failed. It can truly be said that Fenugreek Tea is "A Cup of Good Health from the Good Earth." It acts quickly to stop gas pains, sourness and belching. It is not a laxative, soon!

Users say it does not gripe. It often tends to make your liver more active and to clear away the old bile from your system. Fenugreek Tea helps bring out gases and impurities which may have been inside you a long time. It will aid greatly in cleansing your bowels as they were never cleansed before—(gradually, not drastically or severely). It will help make your digestive organs sweet and clean. Pre-War Army Plot To Oust Hitler Told

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Dean of American Correspondents

Adolf Hitler had got rid of Von Fritsch, whom he de-tested, without having broken his pledge to Hindenburg. He refused to reinstate him. Von Fritsch was popular in the army. What he had over from his salary he invariably gave to families of poor soldiers.

Intense feeling welled in the army. Hitler would not yield.
Hitler had sought to make peace with Ludendorff, who had turned against him, by offering to raise him to field marshal. Ludendorff refused to accept the baton of field marshal from the hands of a "corporal."

To calm the army, Hitler wanted to make Von Fritsch field marshal as a peace offering. The ex-commander-in-chief refused.

HITLER CALLS GENERALS
On the eve of the Munich conference in 1938, 11 generals were, at their request, received by Hitler in the chancellery in Berlin.
They were headed by Gen. Beck, chief of the general staff. They stated they were gravely perturbed over preparations for war and that they considered it their duty to call to the Fuehrer's attention that invasion of Czechoslovakia, as planned, would mean involvement in a world war which,
in their considered opinion, Germany could not win.

The generals remained standing. Hitler had not asked them to be seated. Hitler was standing and looking black as a thunder cloud.

In his most venomous voice and with obvious contempt, he said:
"It appears to me that my generals have formed a defeatist club," then he turned his back on them and walked out.

Gen. Beck resigned as chief of the general staff but agreed to stay till after the occupation of Sudetenland. He had been picked for that post by Gen. Von Fritsch.

BREAKS UP OLD STAFF
Slowly, but with that bull-terrier like tenacity that characterizes his egomania, Hitler was breaking up the old general staff.

On one occasion Hitler invited around 1500 junior officers, mostly lieutenants, to the Reichskanzlei and its gardens in Berlin. He wined, dined and entertained them, promised them promotion and carriers if they carried out his will.

In June, 1935, there was the beginning of an army conspiracy to arrest Hitler and his Nazi chiefs

"No, it is peace this time—for a little while—there will be no war at Munich," I replied.

"Then you know more than we do in the general staff." Our informant, our instructions, our plans, are war," he said.

ROME, July 24 (AP)—Four thousand Jews and many ranking military authorities participated today in the first Jewish thanksgiving in captured Rome. The service was in the grand synagogue on the banks of the Tiber. Capt. Aaron Papernan of Baltimore, Jewish chaplain of the Fifth Army, said:

Hail Tars in Saving 10 at Fatal R. I. Fire

PORTSMOUTH, R. I., July 24—Six Newport Naval Base sailors who broke into a flaming East Main st., rooming house to arouse sleepers, were credited today with aiding in saving the lives of 10 persons; the majority of them children, in the tragic fire which claimed the lives of a Navy wife and three small girls.

The sailors were passing the house when they saw flames shooting from the kitchen where the fire started after a coffee pot boiled over on an oil stove.

Breaking open the door they rushed through the rooms awakening occupants even before the arrival of firemen from the station house located next door.

Removed dead from the nine-room house, which was crowded with children of Navy wives living and working in Newport, were Mrs. Peggy Mitchell, wife of CPO G. W. Mitchell, now on sea duty, of Edhrata, Wash.; Beverly Gill, 6, daughter of Mrs. Victoria Gill, of Bridge st., Newport, and Frances Baine, 6, daughter of Mrs. Helen Baine, of Carroll ave., Newport.

The fourth victim, Betty Mulligan, 10, daughter of Mrs. Pauline Shaw of New York city, died at Newport Hospital. All died of suffocation.

“Sure glad we’ve got FORDS!”

"NINE-TON LOADS are the average as we rush the lifeboats we make to nearly every ship yard on the coast. Our Ford truck tractors do a great job. Mileage is mounting, but operating costs stay low."

says M. JAREMA, Works Manager, Lane Lifeboat & Davit Corporation,
Flushing, New York

On all kinds of jobs, Ford Trucks are delivering service that earns warmest praise from operators. Individuals and fleet owners write to tell how reliable their trucks are—how seldom they need repairs—how little they cost to run and to keep up. Limited production of new Ford Trucks has recently been authorized. If your needs are urgent and you can qualify, see your Ford dealer promptly. It will be necessary, of course, to provide official ODT certification.

"DELIVERING COMPLETE SETS of fully-equipped lifeboats saves both unloading and handling costs. Our Fords truck them into the yards on time, ready to be swung aboard the Victory and Liberty ships."

"A FORD RECONDITIONED ENGINE was recently installed in one truck in an emergency, enabling us to hold to schedules. Such service is a great help. We would not trade our Fords for any other make."

Water Gardens When Rain Fails

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of Vegetable Garden Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Norfolk American Advisory Demonstration Garden on Boston Common.

The occasional light showers of the last few weeks have been far from adequate in keeping gardens in good growing condition.

When Mother Nature lets us down, we must get out the hose and see that the soil is well soaked. A good supply of water is the only insurance of good production.

As the first fruits ripen on the tomatoes there is always a tendency for blossom-end rot to show up. This is always present with staked tomatoes but can be reduced to a large extent by proper watering. The best way to water tomatoes is to soak the soil between the rows. Keep the foliage dry. This method of watering is also practical for cucumbers and other vine crops.

Potatoes are attacked by many diseases, but the most common ones are early and late blight. Both of these blights attack the foliage. The early blight or leaf spot does not cause as severe damage, but it does sometimes cause plant to mature early with a reduced yield.

Late blight occurs during August and September and unless controlled can do considerable damage. It can be recognized by a water-soaked spot which enlarges rapidly if weather conditions are right, namely high humidity. In the advanced stages a white mold will also show on the leaf.

Held for Shooting Seabee Picnicker

NORTHAMPTON, July 24 (AP).—Vitol Zuzgo, 38, of Easthampton was arrested today, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, after the shooting of Navy Seabee Henry Baker, 33, stationed at Davisville, R. I., during a picnic party at West Whiteley yesterday.

Zuzgo was to be arranged in Greenfield.

Four shells were fired into the picnickers. State police said, one hitting Baker in the back and the others lodging in a parked automobile. None of the other nine picnickers, who included Zuzgo's estranged wife, Helen, 36, was injured.

Baker was taken to Cooley-Dickinson Hospital, where, Dr. Martin T. Macklin removed the bullet in an emergency operation. Baker remained unconscious, his condition described as critical.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 24 (AP).—After the war, look for chocolate bars that won't turn to goo in the pocket of your summer suit or run down your chin.

The Army says its tropical chocolate bars, which melt at 120 degrees fahrenheit instead of the usual 85, undoubtedly will be on the civilian market in peacetime through the southern states and in the summer up north.

"THIS IS THE KIND OF WHISKEY I wish I had discovered eight years ago," says Elton M. Whitney, publisher's representative. "It's smooth as silk, rich—and like all fine whiskeys, a grand mixer!"

"IT'S LIKE VELVET!" said A. J. Fowler, photographer, after his first delicious sip of Fleischmann's Preferred. "It's what I call good 'drinking whiskey'—so smooth, so easy on your tongue you can sip it down straight! I never tasted a finer, richer whiskey!"

"IT'S A GREAT WHISKEY!" is the opinion of Theodore Shepard, New York securities broker. "Smooth, delicious! It's not only amazingly mellow when you drink it straight—but perfect for cocktails, too!"

Wanted by Fleischmann! Good Judges of Good Whiskey To Try a Great New Brand!

Wouldn't You Like to Serve a Whiskey that has the Full, Ripe Richness of the World's Finest, Most Limited Brands? If you would, now you can! Read why!

• This invitation is written for the few men who are really good judges of good whiskey... who can appreciate a whiskey that is as gloriously rich, creamy and delicious as the world's finest, most limited brands—and who do not need anything more to confirm them in their judgment.

- Fast acceleration cuts gas mileage as much as 20-30 per cent. Accelerate gradually in first and second speeds.
- Quick starting and stopping wastes gas! Maintain even speed; anticipate traffic stops.
- Drive at moderate speeds; 20-30 M.P.H. is the most economical. On the highway, don't exceed 35 M.P.H.
- Under-inflated tires increase rolling resistance and tire wear! Check tire inflation weekly.
- Dragging brakes waste gas! Keep brakes properly adjusted. For safety, have them relined if necessary.
- Have your car lubricated regularly — make sure your oil filter is working efficiently. Replace if needed.
- Evaporation occurs faster in hot weather. Don't neglect the battery. Add water frequently as needed.
- A dirty or neglected cleaner impairs engine performance. Have the air-cleaner inspected and cleaned if necessary.

IN LIBERATED CHERBOURG

By Burris Jenkins, Jr.

CHERBOURG is like a sluggish boxer—still breathing but motionless. Damage to buildings is superficial except where Germans blew up forts and installations. Windows in most houses were smashed by the blasts. Others, it is said, were broken by our troops in routing out snipers.

Naïves of the town seem stunned. They move in small groups talking to each other. Few of the buildings are occupied except by Allied soldiers, sailors and Sea Bees. There's not much left of furniture.

TWO MYSTERIES
With the last snipers finally starved or routed out of the half-demolished arsenal and the forts, two mysteries remain. One is the strange disappearance of a naval officer—a lieutenant commander—who walked off by himself shortly after the surrender, into the arsenal never to appear again.

The other is the equally strange disappearance of vast quantities of liquor stored in the German stronghold—enough to last all the drunks on 52nd st. a year. Some say the Army took it over, some say the Navy. One thing is certain, the GI's didn't get it, nor the correspondents.

In the arsenal, a whole warehouse is filled with packed cases of liquor bottles—empty. They were ready to be shipped back to Paris or Berlin for refills.

Another great room is filled with sacks of potatoes—now sprouting from the exposure. Others housed pigs and cattle. Negro troops piled these buildings. Some act as cowboys to drive the cattle and pigs around beside fat percheron horses also stored in the enormous arsenal.

MANY BOOBY TRAPS
Booby traps were thick about the place and cars in walking and touching was recommended. Mines remain in the harbor—or did until a few days ago.

By the time you read this, the harbor will probably be crawling with craft of all kinds. Our Army and Navy engineers are working on the problems. There's nothing they can't figure out—except what became of that champagne.

On to Berlin

Mileages on the routes which the Allied armies are traveling to Berlin:
(1) Russian front—365 miles (measured in a direct line from Stedice). This is 70 miles closer than a week ago.
(2) Italian front—810 miles (from Ancona). 620 miles from Pisa.
(3) Normandy front—630 miles (from Troarn, near Caen).

Be an American!

By BENJAMIN DE CASSERES

BE AN AMERICAN!

Watch the growth of power in high places as closely as you would watch your health.

Watch the laws that are made by Congress and the state legislatures.

Not what these laws give you, but what DO THEY TAKE AWAY FROM YOU should primarily concern us.

Be an American!

Guard your individual rights and liberties as you would guard your body against violence.

Guard yourself against the blandishments and promises of the government to feed you and clothe you for the rest of your life.

Be an American!

Do not cringe and crawl before power no matter how highly placed. Not how much do you respect rulers, but, how much do they respect you?

Be an American!

Remember always, by day and night, that the most precious thing you possess is liberty.

Remember the words of a great American statesman that he who gives up his essential liberties to obtain a little temporary safety deserves neither liberty nor safety.

Be an American!

THERE IS A CONSPIRACY of all the nations of the world to de-Americanize you, to internationalize you.

There is a conspiracy throughout the whole planet to make you the centerpiece in an international crazy-quilt.

Stand on your nationalism as Washington, Jefferson, Paine, Madison, Adams and Lincoln did.

Be an American!

Declare war now and for all your days on Socialism, Communism, Nazism, Fascism and all forms of Moloch-stateism.

Be an American!

Support our armies, our sea force, our air force to the limit of your power and purse.

You are about to face a postwar America in which powerful blocs will attempt to transform your America into the very totalitarian pattern that your son, father, brother, friend died to destroy.

Be an American!

DON'T JUST think American.
Don't just mouth your Americanism.

Be an American!

YOU have lived at Lexington, Valley Forge, Monmouth, New Orleans, Gettysburg, Belleau Wood, Cherbourg and Saipan.

YOU sat in Independence Hall with Jefferson and the men of the Declaration.

YOU were the tongue of the Liberty Bell as it rang out FREEDOM.

YOU sat in the Constitutional Convention with Washington.

YOU stood beside Abraham Lincoln when he made his great address at Gettysburg.

YOU are the continuous soul of America, the life principle of which is LIBERTY AT ALL COSTS.

BE AN American by combatting with all the powers of your mind the attempts to level you to the Wagner-Wallace-Marcantonio-Willkie-Frankfurter-Laski-Hillman International Axis.

BE AN American by remaining passionately loyal to the Washington-Jefferson-Madison-Emerson-Lincoln-Whitman Axis.

BE an American!

CHICAGO, July 24—Now that I am no longer covering the Democratic National Convention I am sort of at loose ends. Of course it takes a heap of loose ends to make a house a home, but I have gotten so used to conventioning that I do not feel at home with a loose end any more unless it has a Democrat attached.

I had sort of hoped that covering the convention would be permanent work, but it turned out to be only temporary. So, unless something else turns up, it looks as if I may have to go back to weaving baskets in which to carry out Montgomery Ward chairs.

There were a number of occurrences at the conclave which made life a finer, brighter thing. Like the delegate who nominated Theodore Roosevelt, when he really meant Grover Cleveland. Or when Sen. Claude Pepper, of Florida, said that Henry Wallace had scars on his body, and an anti-Wallace lady delegate bellowed:

"How revolting!"

Or when Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, made a long and involved oration for somebody or other, and Mr. Louis Bromfield, the author, confided in an 80-decibel whisper that he was thinking of founding a new organization to be known as the S.F.T.N.G.F.-N.T.R.

On being pressed for the full name of the organization Mr. Bromfield said it was:

"The society for taking no guff from Nellie Tayloe Ross!"

THE REASON I do not know whom Mrs. Ross was endorsing

On the Side

(Distributed by King Features Synd., Inc.)

We have loved as those who dread

The thorny path of sorrow
With clouds above, and cause to dread

Yet deeper gloom tomorrow.
That thorny path, those stormy skies

Have drawn our spirits nearer
And rendered us by sorrow's ties

Back to the other dearer.

—BARTON.

THOUGH expressed above indicates one reason why so-called "war marriages" have a better chance of success than most other marriages. How about the "war marriages" of World War I? I believe a study of these marriages would be very confusing to critics of "war marriages." I think the percentage of successful marriages is much higher among those married in time of war than those in time of peace.

HARVARD'S Dr. E. F. Hutton is supervising the measurement of the seat spread and leg length of thousands of citizens. The object is to determine how wide a railway car seat and what the distance between seats should be to insure the comfort of long-legged and otherwise oversized passengers. This is truly a noble experiment. The Boston & Maine Railway is responsible for it. As a long legged fellow, I hope the splendid example of the B. & M. will be followed by transportation organizations throughout the country. As I have stated previously, I have been informed by a citizen of Detroit that the street car seats in Chicago are the widest in the country due to the fact that city has more pleasingly plump female residents than any other municipality. However, have been unable to confirm this claim.

is that there are strict rules and regulations covering this kind of speeches. The windbag—er, orator—must, under no circumstances, mention the name of the person he, or she, is plugging until the very end.

The speaker must say the party being plugged is a household word; that he is known the length and breadth of this fair land; that he is the greatest living American and that groundhogs come out of their holes and bow toward Mecca and Medina whenever his name is mentioned.

But we must save the name for the wow finish. Consequently the suspense is terrific. You sit there guessing whom the speaker could possibly mean when he howls that his nominee has been vice-president for the last four years; that he was secretary of agriculture before that; and that he put the word "corn" permanently in the American language.

Mrs. Ross turned out to be a master of suspense. She had me so badly on edge I couldn't take it any longer. I had to go out and make a deal with a cop to put me under a fire hydrant. That is why I do not know whom she was endorsing!

PRECIOUS JEWELS of pure reasoning were tossed back and forth. For instance, a group of eager-eyed devotees arose back of the press box and began chanting:

"We want Wallace!"

They seemed quite nonplussed when a sour-visaged journalist turned from his typewriter and snarled:

"What in hell for?"

THIS SAME GROUP made one more attempt at yipping "We Want Wallace!" but gave up when another reporter yelled:

"Will you settle for arsenic!"

I HAPPENED to be passing the Michigan delegation while the favorite son nominating was at its height and overheard a lady delegate mutter:

"I am so tired of favorite sons I'm about ready to call them some other kind of sons!" She probably meant native sons.

THERE WAS also a beautiful episode when one delegation got into an argument over admitting a would-be lady delegate. Most members of the delegation were in favor of admitting the lady, but the chairman protested:

"She'll be a nuisance. She'll want to be consulted!"

THE CITY OF CHICAGO had an information booth on the third floor of the Stevens Hotel. Its purpose was to answer questions on how to get to this spot and that; where to eat and where to have a little amusement at night.

However, a feminine delegate from New Mexico took the "information" sign literally. She strode up to the booth and asked:

"Can you tell me what the absentee voting law is in New Mexico?"

leg does not have to be killed. But if he is not killed his owner cannot collect the insurance. Q—Is it true Chicago has more movie theaters than churches? A—Chicago has 400 film theaters and 1650 churches. Q—You refer to fact you played baseball and football at college. How good were the teams you played on? A—Well, my Alma Mater, Wesleyan University of Middletown, Ct., is just a small college; one of the so-called "Little Three." The baseball team I played on was good enough to beat Fordham a couple of times, and when you beat that university at baseball you have to have something. The football team was good enough to beat a good Brown University team. So I think we did pretty well for a small college.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL:

Third in order of importance of the wonderful things about women is their capacity for sympathy and their ability to express that sympathy by word and tender action . . . Nobody ever learns everything about Brooklyn, N. Y. I didn't know until the other day that the beautiful city across the bridge had a high school for home making. That's a very nice thing about Brooklyn; it is a place where marriage and home life are taken very seriously . . . When Mary Jones of Detroit became Mrs. H. J. Hyland her eight sisters acted as bridesmaids. There are nine girls and no boys in this Jones family. I understand that all-girl families get along very nicely except that they have quite a few quarrels about borrowing each others clothes without permission. Am also informed when there are three or more girls in a family the battle to use the telephone often becomes somewhat terrific.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 24 — George Raft has always hankered after romantic parts. Time after time he has turned down "heavy" roles that have brought fame to other actors. But George has always argued that fans like romance and adventure, so it's interesting that RKO has bought "Mr. Angel Comes Aboard," the Charles Gordon Booth, book brought out by Doubleday and Doran.

It gets the new title of "Johnny Angel" and George plays a modern swashbuckler and adventurer. He goes to RKO as soon as he finishes "Nob Hill" at 20th.

NOW Director Clarence Brown has gone to the other extreme and is about to make a comedy after the solemn tear-jerking "White Cliffs of Dover." "As You Want Me," a comedy by Helen Deutsch, is his next picture and it's up to the Brown standard, believe me, for M-G-M forked over $100,000 for the privilege of filming it.

"The comedy deals with married life and the second phase of marriage after the bloom of the honeymoon has worn off," Clarence told me. "It's right for Myrna Loy or Irene Dunne and Walter Pidgeon would be excellent in the husband role."

JANE WITHERS and Lulu Velez will be missing in Hollywood this coming season. The girls are going to co-star on Broadway in a show for Dave Wolper, to be called "Have A Good Time." This is Janie's first appearance on Broadway and since she is a talented singer and dancer she will have a role that fits her talents.

ALAN REED has signed a term deal with 20th Century-Fox. He's very excited over the contract, which is for seven years and on a sliding scale. His first is in "Nob Hill," as Dapper Jack Harrigan, barker and best pal to George Raft. Alan made a big reputation for himself on the Fred Allen show as "Fulstaff Oppenshaw."

SYLVAN SIMON is a producer-director by profession and a mighty good one. He read a story called "Fuller Brush Man" and was so delighted with it he paid his own do-re-mi. "Here's one," he said, "for Red Skelton." So Red was given the story to read and agreed to make it when the war is over.

NOSTALGIC MEMORIES of Marie Dressler came to me this morning with the news that Republic has made a seven-year agreement with James E. Burkett to release the entire series of "Tugboat Annie." With the exception of the one "Tugboat Annie" movie made at Warners with Marjorie Rambeau, these Norman Reilly Raines stories were all made by Metro with Marie, who endeared herself to all her fans. Marjorie Main and Lulu McConnell were being discussed for the "Annie" role.

THAT IRON WOMAN, the valiant Viking, Greta Garbo, has refused to set foot back in the house where she was "burgled" — and somehow that seems the most "humanizing" news I've ever heard about G. G. You'd never get me back in a place where I had to shinny down a rainpipe to escape an intruder, either. And so, while Drawn by Dean Cain—Copyright, 1944, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

"A bigamist, my son, is a man who doesn't know when he's got enough!"

I am amused, the lady has my deepest sympathy. I learned just today that Greta has bought the former Gladys Swarthout home through her agent and that it will be her next domicile. Greta continues to limp around on a cane following her escape down the rainpipe.

A LINE OR TWO: Paul Meltzer's oil portrait of Professor Einstein went for a million dollar bond at the Magnin rally. Today the artist received the following letter from Einstein, who is at Lake Saranac: "I'm glad my 'corpse' could do so much in the bond drive. I've never inspired such a figure face-to-face." Gloria Swanson's show, "Goose for the Gander," is a riot in Chicago. It goes right into New York without any added polishing. . . . Speaking of Chicago, my girl friend-reporter, Gracie Allen, reports that the Joan and Frank Bering cocktail party was the social highlight of the convention. Gracie also reports that Gloria Swanson, Virginia Peine, Quentin Reynolds and Colleen Moore were all on hand to say goodbye to Pauline and Skeets Gallagher, who are off to Mexico City for a month.

CAREY WILSON tried to change the last "Dr. Gillespie" and have the girl (Marilyn

Boston American, July 24—19

Maxwell) chase the young doctor (Van Johnson). Some of the critics objected on the ground it was wrong for the wholesome Gillespie screen stories to deviate and become sexy. Maybe that was their opinion—but it wasn't the opinion of the service men who wrote in and demanded that Marilyn be made a star. Carey said he couldn't imagine why these letters were all from service men until he realized they had seen the "Gillespie" movie before it was shown elsewhere.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random: George Dolz, former waiter now an actor at Universal, and Janelle Johnson are wed; Talulah Bankhead has taken the Joe Penner house for the rest of the summer; Loretta Young and Col Tom Lewis have not bought "Buckey" Selig's mansion. Too expensive, they decided, and the baby, due in a month, will have its first nursery in the house where they now live.

DIANA LYNN was very happy that she was able to gift her mother with a diamond and ruby clip on her birthday. Susie Hayward was a pretty bride when she married Jess Barker. She wore a blue crepe dress which set off her red hair. Although her mother wanted her to wait, she gave her blessing. Don "Red" Barry will be the proprietor of a western dance hall as soon as he can get the Vic McLaglen sports center in shape. Pvt. Pasquel Cicco wires from Philadelphia thanking me for the $1000 War Bond prize he received for winning the Jeffery Bernerd contest, which he read about in my column. Van Hyatt hosted a birthday party for Anita Colby Friday evening. Jennifer Jones, who left with Anita the following day for the "Since You Went Away" appearance in New York, was one of the guests. That's all today.

Fashion Skin Beauty in Cream Concentrate Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

IF YOU WOULD be the perfect picture frame girl... your complexion must have that skin-you-love-to-touch beauty... the kind the Big Moment dotes on and stamps as requisite for utter charm and loveliness.

We're apt to be negligent about skin care in warm weather... what with so many other things to do and master... but negligence of facial attention is one of the cardinal sins... no matter how you look at it. Not even a suntan will clear up a complexion... dotted with imperfections... disfigured by enlarged pores... and greased with over-active sebaceous glands.

Complexion must be smooth and soft and glistening with vibrant resiliency. It must have that cared-for look... that bandbox salon glow. In your appraisal of beauty... don't you always give the gal with a lovely skin top rating... despite other handicaps? For when you gaze upon a face with alabaster skin... lustrous like the shiny smoothness of marble... you look upon a skin that bespeaks facial beauty.

If we are to start picking ourselves up... if we are to start upon a reformation program... the face tops the lists of necessities to bring about charm and attraction. So let's get busy with a skin conditioner... that will not only keep the tissue soft and supple, but clear and healthy.

Come heat or high water... this concentrated cleansing cream... purposely designed for dry, sensitive skins... will feminize your face... discourage pores from becoming enlarged... and clean up a skin that is leathery and unappealing. It is such a rich consistency preparation... that it should be used most sparingly... for a little goes a long way... and does a bangup job.

Nibble it on with the fingertips over your entire face and throat... do NOT massage... and then remove with a damp, warm cloth. Regular use of this treatment will have medicinal effects on the complexion we assure you... and you'll be able to FACE it at all times.

For the name of this cleansing concentrate to beautify your complexion, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A GIRL WITH A GRAND COMPLEXION can be anybody's "perfect picture frame girl"... with a face that is truly feminine and lovely... that bespeaks moonlight and roses... whispering and soft winds... a romantic inspiration at all times. Such a perfect complexion has Warner Star Faye Emerson.

NAPOLEON WORE a coat like this now it is top style for fall. Designed in ginger wool... with the sleeves triple-banded in black sequin embroidery which combines the motifs of Napoleon... the N, the crown of the bee, his fetish symbol... the model won raves of recent New York Dress Indefinite showings. Tricorne heightens it's smartness—R. M.

Hits Wife's Make-Up

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: My wife and I have been married two years, have no children. Lately I was inducted into the Army. I came home unexpectedly on furlough and found what seemed to be a strange lady in place of my wife. She had dyed her hair jet black, made up her face livid as a corpse and a fresh mouth was painted on every hour. Naturally, I suspected another man. My mother and sisters who lived near say positively there is no other man that my wife goes out very little and only to see her women friends. When I asked her what in the blankety, blankety dash was the meaning of this transformation, she said she was so lonesome without me that she began trying different kinds of make-up on herself.

I've never wanted her to work outside the home, because I'm able to take care of her. However, I'd rather see her scrub office buildings than go for this sort thing. My mother has suggested war work. Would that be a good thing? L. M. J.

By all means, encourage your wife to engage in some sort of defense work. It need not be in a war plant. Almost every city has a branch of the U. S. Employment Service, where she could apply for work in a Day Nursery, or take training as a Nurse's Aid. Tell her to apply at the Red Cross.

Toss-Your-Own Salad Will Be Fun for Guests

By MARTHA LEE

SALAD MEALS are top summer ideas. Based on meat and vegetables, whole meal salads have a dozen virtues. They're a long step towards well balanced meals, supplying high quality proteins, vitamins and minerals that all meats have to offer.

Why not everyone toss his own salad? For instance, in serving this bacon salad, just line up crisp salad ingredients on the table and let each one toss a salad in an individual salad bowl.

TOSS-YOUR-OWN BACON SALAD

On a large chop plate arrange crisp bacon slices, table onions, and tomato wedges. In a large salad bowl have already mixed together lettuce, water-cress, radishes, hard cooked egg slices, and cucumbers. On the side provide an assortment of dressings—mayonnaise, French, or thousand island. Let every one help himself.

Here are other good meat salad recipes, tested and tasted and ready for your recipe files: TOMATO ASPIC RING AND CORNED BEEF SALAD

Tomato Aspic:
1 1/2 tsp. unflavored gelatin
1-3 cup cold water
3 cups tomato juice
1 sliced onion 1 tsp. celery salt
1 1/2 tsp. salt 2 bay leaves
2 tsp. sugar 3 cloves

Soak gelatin in cold water for 10 minutes. Meanwhile, simmer tomato juice, onion, celery salt, salt, bay leaves, sugar, and cloves for 4 or 5 minutes, then strain and pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool to lukewarm, add lemon juice, and pour into a ring mold rinsed in cold water. When thoroughly set, turn onto chop plate and fill center with corned beef and macaroni salad, mixed as follows, or any favorite meat salad. Serves 6.

Salad Filling:
2 cups chopped cooked corned beef
3 cups cooked elbow macaroni
1 green pepper, chopped
1 cup diced celery
6 sweet pickles, chopped
Mayonnaise to moisten

JELLIED HAM LOAF
3 cups diced cooked ham
1 1/2 tsp. unflavored gelatin
1 1/2 cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
1/4 tsp. salt 1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup finely chopped celery

Toss-a-Bacon Salad

2 hard-cooked eggs
2 cups cooked chicken
Soak gelatin in cold water, then dissolve in boiling water. Add salt, vinegar and let cool. Add ham, celery, sliced eggs and cubed beets. Add ham mixture and allow to set. Turn molds out onto a garnished chop plate.

CHICKEN SALAD

2 cups cooked chicken
1 cup diced celery
1/2 cup sliced ripe olives
1/4 cup French dressing
Lettuce 1/2 cup mayonnaise
Cut chicken in 1/2 to 3/4 inch cubes. Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper, add celery and olives and French dressing, let chill half an hour or more. Serve with salad greens and extra dressing if desired. Makes 6 servings. Cooked veal or pork may be substituted for chicken in part or entirely. May be garnished with sliced hard-cooked eggs and capers.

Visitor, Popular Or Unpopular

If you are the kind of guest who isn't invited again, you'd be wise to do a penetrating X-ray job on yourself to see why. This self-examination, if honest and complete, may be an important turning-point in your life... turning constructively and joyously toward a more graceful design for your thinking and living, and therefore toward your greater popularity, as a person and as a guest. My Day By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, SUNDAY—I know that many people must have felt, as I did, a great interest and pride in Vice-President Wallace's achievements during his journey to the Far East and in his reports on his return. There are not many men whom we could send from this country who would be welcomed in both Russia and China by the people as he was. It is known everywhere that he has consistently proved himself a friend of the average man and woman in his own country.

To those who know Mr. Henry Wallace's background and ancestry, it is no surprise that he has inherited both idealism and the ability to fight for the things in which he believes. His grandfather had that same ability. There is no question in my mind but that Henry Wallace would rather be defeated in a fight which he had undertaken than trim his sails or disavow a belief which he held. There is integrity and pride in all the Wallace's back of him, and history will record no lack of these qualities in the present day Wallace.

THE FUNDAMENTAL qualities which were in Henry Wallace when he came to Washington as Secretary of Agriculture, are as strong as ever. He believes in the rights of people—all the people, not just a few. He is an economist and he has a practical mind. At times, to meet existing circumstances, he has to accept certain modifications of his own objectives, but never has he changed his goal.

Mr. Wallace has made far more of the office of Vice-President than most men have been able to make in the past. When he has thought things were worth doing, he has done them, no matter how much it cost him personally.

For this latest trip and the friendship which he developed for us among the people of Russia and China, we, the people of the United States, owe him our deepest gratitude.

Wrappers Win Favor

THE wrapper, that old-fashioned garment that made Mother in "Life With Father" so distractingly charming at breakfast, is being promoted by folks who design lingerie and house gowns. It is particularly marked for brides, who will want something of the sort for that first, breathless breakfast after the wedding.

Miss Dulin has sketched one of these wrappers for you, and it is one of the most glamorous. Made of soft rose pink crepe it is trimmed with circular ruffles of pink marquisette that make melting borders around the entire closing and at the hemline. The long sleeves also have marquisette ruffles that fall over the hands.

"TOO NEAR THE RITZ for the good of our figures and pocketbooks at lunchtime, but definitely more convenient to the subway" is the way some of the girls in fun describe the grand location of the British War Relief Society Uptown Branch.

A couple of weeks ago the branch moved to 17 Arlington st., and is now operating efficiently on several floors of the house owned by Helena Rubinstein and which will probably be turned into a super beauty salon after the war.

Before the move the uptown branch was located in the Herrick mansion on Commonwealth ave. The late Mr. Robert Herrick left the property to the Massachusetts General Hospital which loaned it to BWRS for several years but is now turning the house into a dormitory for dietitians.

The branch is busily carrying on all summer with its wonderful work of outfitting British seamen with comforts such as warm clothing, books, music, etc., donated or made by friends of the society. Among loyal volunteers who man the headquarters are Mrs. Richard Wood, Mrs. John Kennedy, Mrs. Robert Herrick, Mrs. Bartlett Harwood, Mrs. Livingston Davis, Mrs. William Bayne, Mrs. Richard Paine, Mrs. Robert Bainbridge, Mrs. Samuel Chamberlain, Kitty Pentecost and many more.

One of the youngest and most capable girls helping for the summer is Sara Harwood, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett Harwood, who commutes three days a week from the North Shore to do the clerical work.

Potato Soup made with Wine

VICTORY FOOD RECIPE

Cover 3 or 4 diced potatoes, 4 diced carrots and 1 diced onion with 2 cups boiling water; add 1½ tsp. salt and cook until very tender (about 15 minutes). Do not drain. Mash, add 2 cups milk; season with salt, pepper and celery salt; heat to boiling. Add ½ cup Sauterne wine and serve at once, sprinkling top with minced parsley. Makes 5 cups.

Wine brightens wartime menus 2 ways

If you like to "make a meal of soup"—here's your dish! Flakes of carrot give this rich puree its golden color ... and California Sauterne works the miracle of its flavor! Then for a crowning touch, serve glasses of the same delicate Sauterne wine the soup is made with. Try a good wine in and with your war meal tonight. WE want to answer all questions about wartime telephone service as completely as possible.

This isn't always easy when people plan to move, or take a house for the summer, and learn they cannot get a telephone at the new address.

The general answer to such questions is that war has about used up reserve telephone facilities. So we must make what we have give the best service we can to the greatest number.

Every customer has a different problem, a different set of questions—we can't answer them all here—a husband away in service, serious illness, a baby expected, important war work, dozens of other reasons why a telephone is wanted.

If you have a specific question, please get in touch with a Service Representative or the Manager at your local Telephone Business Office.

Love and war progress side by side in "Days of Glory," RKO Radio's dramatic romance of Russia's gallant battle against the Nazi hordes.

Due for a local premiere on Keith Memorial screen on Wednesday, it marks the film debut of the internationally famous Mallet Russe ballerina, Tamara Toumanova (pronounced Too-MON-ova) and the noted Broadway actor, Gregory Peck. Broadway

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, July 24—"Lopez speaking" is as familiar a theatrical trademark as Leo the Lion. Between stage stunts at the Strand, Vincent Lopez, maestro and star-maker par excellence—has, for a day, re-fashioned the phrase to "Lopez writing." . . . D. K.

VINCENT LOPEZ SAYS.

You learn a lot about folks from where you stand, if you're the man with the stick in front of the band. A boy and a girl venture on the dance floor, and something tells you it's their first date. They discover they dance beautifully together. Their shyness evaporates while you watch.

If, months later they return and request the song you played during that first dance shared by them, you know they've fallen in love and you feel you had a small something to do with it.

BROADCASTING, of course, is different. "I shot an arrow into the air—it fell to earth, I knew not where"—that rhyme runs through my mind whenever the band strikes up our theme and the announcer introduces another program.

It's impossible to imagine your audience in its entirety. The head plays on, and while it does, the housewife wields her broom in tempo . . . the music mingles with the sizzle of the griddle and the clatter of plates, knives and forks in many homes.

It is generally known that Betty Hutton came to New York with my hand after winning an audition contest I held in her home town. What hasn't been told before concerns a similar talent hunt years earlier.

I was seeking a vocalist and someone brack a shy youngster to me. Perhaps she tried too hard. At any rate, I was unimpressed and sent her away with the usual diplomatic apologies. The rejected songstress managed to struggle along without my help. Of course, it was Dorothy Lamour, and since she has become everybody's Big Moment, I privately regard her as my own Most Embarrassing Moment.

HOLLYWOOD, July 24—Like horse racing, the movies flourish because of a difference of opinion.

And exhibitors, presenting their own reviews in the Motion Picture Herald, demonstrate this.

Take the picture "A Guy Named Joe." Exhibitor W. C. Pullin of Columbus, O., writes: "If you have to beg Metro for it, by all means play it. There aren't enough adjectives in the dictionary to describe this superb picture. It is certainly my choice for the best picture of the year. Business built up each night and it set a record that will stand for a long time."

There's Exhibitor Cleo Manry of Buena Vista, Ga., who bet on the same picture: "Some liked it and some didn't. Personally I thought it a good picture. Business was good first night but fell off second night."

And here is Exhibitor Pullin talking about "Flesh and Fantasy": "Personally I didn't care for this feature at all. It was a big surprise at the box office as it went over big."

Exhibitor Andrew Mayeshiba of Heart Mountain, Wyo., writes about the same picture: "When people heard about this, they clamored for it; but once they saw it they didn't care for it . . . Not as good as everyone thought it would be."

There you have it. The exhibitor who didn't like the picture made money on it, and the exhibitor who wanted the picture didn't like it.

ALWAYS included in the comments is Frankie-boy, and Exhibitor J. H. Bustin of Windsor, Nova Scotia, has this to say about "Higher and Higher": "Not a bad picture. Sinatra might be able to sing but we would rather hear Bing Crosby any day." Now is that nice? Can't you just accept Frankie-boy and let it go at that?

Exhibitor Manry has her say about "Behind the Rising Sun": "First night business was grand and comments from patrons were 'Good show,' but business was so low second night I just wondered if they really thought it was good, as comment first night always affects second night and this did not prove to help any." Lady, it would appear that your customers are deceiving you.

THE COMMENTS on the war pictures, especially the combat films, are improving and it seems that both the exhibitors and the audiences are going for them more. Consider the attitude of Exhibitor M. Bailey of Dryden, Canada, who writes about "Memphis Belle": "This is one of the best pictures that has ever been made, a war picture that everyone thought they should see."

This exhibitor is Sgt. William E. Govey, who writes from overseas, APOB87, and who has strictly military patronage. About "No Time for Love," he writes: "Everyone went wild for this. If they were all as good as this, wouldn't this be one great business?"

Another picture that pleased Sgt. Govey and his military patronage is "See Here, Private Hargrove."

Boston After Dark

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: Horses for courses, and actors for rooms! . . . The phrase before the comma is a truism of the racetrack. . . . Beginning with the conjunction, the thought is—as far as we know—original with this column . . . Emil Boreo's return to the Latin Quarter inspired it . . . At the Bradford Road six months ago, The Boreo was spotted unhappily, we thought . . . Perhaps it was because his audience was at too close range.

WHEN HE GAVE his version of a Frenchman singing "The Last Time I Saw Paris," Boreo was emoting into the faces of his onlookers, and when Boreo emotes with great emotions he is apt to become so lost in the act that his grunts and sighs register too vividly . . . A spray of saliva is likely to deluge the ringside table which, having slipped the headwaiter no less than a ten spot, should not be susceptible to undue moisture . . . No such inconvenience hampers the Boreo performance in the Latin Quarter . . . He has an elevated stage to himself.

HIS AUDIENCE is beyond range of horrid words, in French or English . . . He is unrestrained . . . Consequently, we think, he is effective beyond the powers of most artists of his type . . . For Emil, who says he conceived the idea of "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" from the great Chauve Souris which introduced Russian art to America, is nonpareil in his class . . . His presence on the new Latin Quarter bill commands attention of summer nightclubbers, however jaded.

AND WE COME NOW to the subject of Neil Fontaine, the emcee of the show on which Monsieur Boreo headlines . . . This handsome young man with a show-business background has shown considerable courage in spurning a great deal of catchpenny publicity that could be his for the asking . . . Neil's mother was a Ziegfeld girl named Evan Burroughs Fontaine . . . His and her name made headlines when this reporter was sprouting callouses as a night rewrite man (in 1921) . . . Neil wants no part of the sequel to that publicity because the sequel would link him to a famous American family that, in his opinion, deserves little sympathetic attention from his friends.

SO WE CAN treat with young Fontaine's possibilities as an actor . . . The youth has looks of a manly variety frequently lacking in night club masters of ceremonies . . . He also has a voice of power and lush . . . The voice happens to lack a musical quality . . . Nevertheless, it can carry young Fontaine—assisted by his appearance and bearing—to a high spot in musical comedy . . . He has more equipment, for instance, than Jack Whiting carried to the Broadway wars, and Jack Whiting was the leading musical comedy juvenile of the roaring 1920's . . . If the 1940's roar as loudly as the decade before the threadbare thirties, you will be paying $5.50 and $6.60 a seat to view a musical comedy which offers one Neil Fontaine in the leading male role . . . (The foregoing is only a prediction, of course.)

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: John L. Sullivan, the "gusher king," is in town . . . Mrs. Sullivan is with him . . . He's one of the most colorful "oil millionaires" . . . About the picture "Bing" Crosby is making about John L. Sullivan, "The Boston Strong Boy," the Texan Sullivan carries a chuckling conviction that it will be no less than great . . . But he wants no part of the proceeds . . . As his father was the famous fighter's father's brother, John L. of Texas could have insisted on being recompensed when the rights to the story were being cleared . . . "I hope that Mrs. Connors of Roxbury, who is a close relative to the 'Boston Strong Boy,' gets all that she is entitled to," said he. "I have had too much good luck in life to ask for very much more for myself" . . . Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan were guests of John Costello at the Music Box . . . They are planning to stay in New England indefinitely.

EXCLUSIVE: THE OPA is concentrating on a drive to turn up gasoline violators, and it will become intense before the week is over . . . A Boston syndicate has taken over the space once occupied by Nate Lewis under the New York Latin Quarter, and an arcade of shops is planned . . . The Fensgate's Sature Room Gardens is holding over Andy Jacobson's orchestra . . . Walter O'Keefe, the star of the Statler's Terrace Room, made a quick trip to New York to read and sing his new musical comedy, to a prominent Broadway producer.

3-Weeks Meeting Opens at Rock

By JACK CONWAY

They're off at Rockingham Park today in what is expected to be one of the most successful meetings of the year. There will be 18 days of racing and intense action is certain. Most racing meetings usually furnish intense competition due to the fact that the horses are razor sharp.

Horsemen know that if their thoroughbreds are not ready to perform at their best it is silly to ship them to a track that is having an 18-day meeting.

It will be the first time in two years that Rockingham Park has had a summer meeting. A year ago transportation restrictions made it necessary to call off the Rockingham meeting. This paved the way for Suffolk Downs to run three extra weeks of racing that raised $633,000 for war charities.

This year the East Boston track gave last week to the national war fund, which embraces the Community Fund, and the Disabled Veterans' Fund of the American-Record Sunday. Advertiser shared in the profits of the six days of charity racing. Final returns will show that more than $225,000 was raised for charity.

Rockingham Park will later have its charity days. The day for the National War Fund, Inc. will be held during the fall meeting and will feature six races in the morning and eight races in the afternoon.

Lou Smith

There are more than 1000 horses in the barns at Rockingham Park. They include many horses who have never run in New England before.

These horses have been shipped here from Delaware Park, the West, and from Maryland.

There will also be many of the horses that have been racing at Suffolk Downs.

As is true at other tracks, the purses have been increased at Rockingham. Owners of thoroughbreds are having their biggest financial season. In addition to racing for attractive purses, they are getting record sums of money for ordinary horses. The price of horseflesh has skyrocketed. It is not uncommon to see horses that used to run for $800 being claimed for $2000 to $3000.

Random Shots at Target

Horace Wade has gone west for a three-week trip. He will take in the races at Detroit and Chicago.

Jockey Arcaro had a big day in New York on Saturday with four winners.

Mack O'Dowd, former New Hampshire sheriff, has been over his entries as vice-president of Rockingham Park. He will supervise personnel.

Mort Mahoney will direct the mutual department.

Hughson Notches His 15th Victory

ST. LOUIS, July 24 (AP)—After a crushing 12-to-1 defeat, the league-leading St. Louis Browns rebounded with a bang to break a three-game losing streak and stop the Boston Red Sox, 9 to 3, in the nightcap of yesterday's double-header.

Tex Hughson breezed to his 15th victory in the curtain-raiser, limiting the Browns to six hits. Sig Jakucki won his eighth game for the league-leaders in the second game. Hughson has lost four, Jakucki five.

The Red Sox decided the first game in a hurry, pushing over seven runs in the second inning on five hits, two hit batsmen, a walk and a sacrifice. Bob Muncie, extremely wild and ineffective, was the victim.

Bobby Doerr opened the scoring in the second contest with a home run in the second inning, his second of the day and his 11th of the year.

The Browns grabbed the lead in the last of that inning when Al Zarilla's home scored Gene Moore. They added two more in the second.

After two singles and a walk had loaded the bases in the fourth, Vernon Stephens came through with a long home run to chalk up four more for the Browns and clinch the contest. It was Stephens' 10th circuit clout.

Pete Fox hit his first homer of the year for Boston in the seventh with the bases empty.

Zarilla was the Browns' most consistent hitter, getting two or two in the first game when he replaced Moore, and three blows including a homer and a double, in four times at the plate in the nightcap. His three hits scored four runs.

The three-game losing streak equals the longest string of losses the Browns have had this season. The club twice before had suffered three consecutive defeats.

Nicholson and Ott Tie For Home Run Honors

By Associated Press

Cubs' greatest slugging outfielder since Hack Wilson, may become the first player in National League history to lead the circuit in home runs and runs batted in for two successive years.

The husky former Washington College (Maryland) football star hit four home runs and drove in seven runs to take over or share in the leadership in both departments, as the Cubs and the New York Giants divided doubleheaders yesterday. The Cubs winning the opener 7-4 and the Giants the nightcap, 12-10.

TIES MAJOR RECORD

Nicholson's four homers in a twin-bill tied a major league record and placed him in a tie with Mel Ott of the Giants for the league lead with 21 each. It also gave Nick six homers in four games, tying another National League mark, held by four players.

Big Bill's seven RBIs gives him a total of 64, tops in the majors. He led the senior circuit last year with 29 home runs and 123 runs batted in. Only Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1922 and '25, and Chuck Klein of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1931 and '33, ever led the league in home runs and runs batted in for two years, though neither led for successive years.

In addition, Nicholson made six hits and scored six runs to climb above the .300 mark for the first time this season.

Each club tied a loop record when both the Giants and the Cubs used seven pitchers in the wild and woolly second game. The total of 14 hurlers is a new major league record, displacing the old one of 12 set by the Cubs and Cincinnati in an 18-inning game during 1942.

The league-leading St. Louis Browns bounced back, after a 12-1 lacing, to defeat the Boston Red Sox 9-3 in the second game, aided by Vernon Stephens' grand slam home run in the fourth inning. In the opener, Tex Hughson joined Detroit's Hal Newhouser as the only 15-game winners in the American League by holding the Browns to six hits.

CARDS IS OUT FRONT

The St. Louis Cardinals increased their first place lead to 13 games by sweeping a double header from the Boston Braves, 3-2 and 5-2. All three Cardinal runs in the opener were unearned. Big Mort Cooper won his 12th victory in the nightcap.

Two strikes were snapped when the Philadelphia Athletics took both games from the Detroit Tigers, 13-3 and 3-2. It marked the end of the Mackmen's eight-game losing streak, and snapped the Tigers' winning skein at six. The double loss dropped the Tigers into fifth place.

Brooklyn sank deeper into the National League cellar by dropping both games of a twin bill to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-5 and 4-1 in 11 innings. It marked the Dodgers' fifth straight loss, and their 21st in the last 23 games.

The Pirates won the opener when Babe Dahlgren spearheaded a three-run ninth inning attack with a two-run triple. A five-run outburst, highlighted by Vince DiMaggio's three-run homer in the 11th inning, won the nightcap.

The New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox divided their two games, the Yankees winning the opener 7-6, and the Sox taking

Johnson Joins All-Star Squad

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—The College All-Stars have added weight, but definitely, to their array for the charity football game with the Chicago Bears at Dyche Stadium, August 30.

Nominated to the collegiate squad yesterday by the Chicago Tribune were Clyde Johnson, 260-pound tackle from the University of Kentucky and Bob Graiziger, 201-pound veteran guard from Minnesota.

Graiziger earned another Gopher letter last season after being honorably discharged from the Marines. Johnson is an infantry lieutenant stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The second game 10-6. Johnny Lindell of the Yanks homered in the first game and Ralph Hodgdon of the pile horse starred with four hits in the second one.

PHILS K. O. WALTERS

The Phillies continued their jinx over left-hander senior circuit when they knocked him out of the box and overcame a six-run deficit to win the opener 7-6. Walters has beaten the Phillies only nine times in his seven years with the Reds. Cincinnati won the second, 2-1, when Catcher Ray Mueller homered in the seventh with one on.

Cleveland went over the .500 mark for the first time since May 11 by taking both games from the Washington Senators, 4-3 and 9-5, to move into fourth place. The Indians were helped by five double plays, four in the nightcap.

JOHN E. WARNER Says: "DON'T SCRATCH YOUR HAIR AWAY"

This young man has a good head of hair and doesn't feel that he will ever be bald. Yet his scalp is laden with dandruff, itches constantly, and he loses a great deal of hair each day. His hair is going and the constant itching is nature's warning that baldness is on the way. Right now a short period of pleasant, low cost treatment used by John E. Warner and Associates would get rid of this dandruff, check the abnormal hair fall and normalize his scalp.

A few years later it is too late, his appearance is permanently marred, a serious handicap to anyone. Don't let baldness come to you since scientific Warner treatment and proper care afterward can prevent it in most cases.

There is no charge or obligation for a private scalp examination and consultation.

Fees for treatment are very moderate and are payable as the treatments are taken—not in advance. There is a separate department for women.

Braves Give Nate Andrews Bad Break

By BILL GRIMES

There should be a law against what the Braves did to Nate Andrews yesterday. Strictly speaking, the St. Louis Cardinals didn't make an earned run off the big South Carolina.

Umpires—Larry Goetz, at the plate; Lou Jorda, at first base; "Beams" Reardon, at third base.
Game starts at 3:00 o'clock.

Braves' Notes

"Whitey" Wietelmann broke two of the stitches on his split hand and then pulled out the other. . . . The hand is still very tender and it will be some time before "Whitey" will be able to return to the lineup. . . . Javery was lifted after seven innings and Stan Klotz took over. . . . The Cardinals kicked "Bear Tracks" for ten hits and five runs.

Yet, Brave after Brave hit or cut at the first pitch. . . . Kurowski snuffed out a Brave threat in the fifth when he robbed Warren Huston of a hit and started an inning ending double play. . . . Tommy Holmes and Chet Ross came up with grand catches in the sixth, stealing extra base hits off Gus Bergamo and Stan Musial.

Lanier got Andrews, Ryan and Macon on strikes in the sixth. . . . Don't let anyone tell you those South Carolina boys do not stick together. . . . With the bases loaded in the seventh and his buddy Nate Andrews trailing 0 to 1, Clyde Klutznick doubled against the left field wall and put the Braves out in front, 2 to 1. . . . But in the eighth, Andrews' jinx moved in and really did a job on Nate. . . . Johnny Hopp's triple hit low on the fence and therefore Andrews have been caught by either Tommy Holmes or Chet Ross. . . . Then, Dee Phillips looked up to see what Hopp was going to do and let Sanders' grounder get through him. And, as though Andrews had not been mistreated enough, Macon dropped a perfect throw from Connie.

JAVERY BLOWS AGAIN

Ryan and Stan Musial scored putting the Cards out in the lead. . . . And, they protected their advantage. . . . It was the sixth game Andrews has lost by a margin of one run this season.

The Cards didn't waste any time getting to Al Javery, in the nightcap. . . . Gus Bergamo hit "Jave's" first pitch for a hit and then in the second round three singles and a double pushed across three runs, which started the pride of North Oxford on his way to his 14th defeat of the year. . . . There's no telling how many runs the Cards would have scored in the second, if Tommy Holmes hadn't raced across to the screen in front of the Braves' bullpen and speared a drive off Johnny Hopp's bat, which was labeled for three bases.

The Braves hopped on Mort Cooper for two singles and a pair of doubles in the fourth and came up with two runs. . . . Apparently, Bob Coleman wasn't satisfied with Max Macon's work in the opener, for her sent "Butch" Etchison to cover the initial sack in the nightcap.

Deaths

O'CONNELL—In Brookline, July 23, Edward F., son of the late Daniel and Catherine (Dolan) O'Connell, funeral from his late residence, 21 Fairbanks St., Tuesday at 9 A. M. Requiem Mass at 9 A. M. Mary's Assumption Church at 9 A. M. Funeral and interment private.

The Cardinals were credited with making seven hits off Nate Andrews. But, in our book, Nate pitched three hit balls and was entitled to a shut out. With two away in the second, Max Macon attempted to make a "Fancy Dan" catch of Kurowski's infield fly and muffed the ball. Then "Slats" Marion, who should not have appeared at the plate until the next inning, slapped a two-bagger to right center, scoring "Whitey."

In the fifth, Macon pulled up on Kurowski's grounder, with a force out play at second and had to work on Marion, who hit back to him for a force play at third. Verban fled out to Ross in short and then Andrews tossed out Lanier. It was an unusually fine demonstration of courageous pitching.

Right then and there; Andrews demonstrated that he is one of the best pitchers in the major leagues. With Sanders on second and Kurowski on first, Nate went to work on Marion, who hit back to him for a force play at third. Verban fled out to Ross in short and then Andrews tossed out Lanier. It was an unusually fine demonstration of courageous pitching.

FATE AGAINST ANDREWS

After trailing for five innings, the Braves reached Max Lanier for four tallies in the 7th, when Clyde Klutznick doubled against the wall with the bases filled. But, their lead was short lived, for the aforementioned errors of commission and omission sealed Andrews' fate and cost him his eighth defeat of the year, instead of his 11th victory.

The second game was practically "no contest" after the first round. The Cardinals jumped on Al Javery for three runs in the second and two more in the sixth, after the Braves had bunched two singles and as many doubles off Mort Cooper in the fourth for a pair of tallies.

Jim Tobin has been assigned to pitch the windup game of the doubleheader series this afternoon. "Tobe" will be in quest of his 12th win of the year. Manager Billy Southworth will counter with Ted Wilks, who has a record of seven wins against one loss.

Connie Ryan will make his last appearance in a Braves uniform for the duration this afternoon.

Dots and Dashes

When Ken O'Bea went home Saturday night, the Cardinals were left with one catcher, Walker Cooper. . . . They have Bob Keeney with them but he is the "bull pen" catcher and has never caught a professional game. . . . And, Billy Southworth is struggling along with a seven man pitching staff. . . . Bud Byerly, who was with the club at the start of the season has been recalled from Rochester and will report in Philadelphia.

Connie Ryan received an ovation from the fans on his first appearance at the plate. . . . He will be in the Braves lineup today but will be inducted into the Navy tomorrow morning.

Andrews' 1943 jinx the second round when, with two away, Macon dropped "Whitey" Kurowski's pop up and then "Slats" Marion doubled in the first run of the afternoon.

With Ray Sanders on first base, Macon should have gone after Kurowski's grounder in the fifth, for the play was to second, right in front of him. . . . Andrews pitched himself out of what appeared to be a hopeless situation in the same round. . . . The Cards had two on and none out but Nate beat down and got the next three men. . . . It's a well known fact that if Max Lanier has a weakness, it's his control.

Cattle for Cover in Normandy—Bodies of cows, killed by shell and machine-gun fire along a road near Periers in France, are used by Yanks as they push forward against Nazi positions. While going is slow in some sections of Normandy, the Allied progress is generally steady.
